

EFA 2014 WA SENATE RE-ELECTION

HOW DO THE PARTIES STACK UP ON DIGITAL RIGHTS?

	SURVEILLANCE	NBN	COPYRIGHT	CENSORSHIP
	 Supports mandatory data retention. Has not opposed mass surveillance programmes.	 Supports NBN with Fibre to the Premises (FTTP).	 Some support for fair use. Recently called for greater transparency on TPP.	 Reluctantly abandoned internet filter policy. Instituted use of s313 to block websites.
	 Has not ruled out mandatory data retention. Has supported mass surveillance programmes.	 Supports NBN with Fibre to the Node (FTTN).	 Yet to support fair use. Supports TPP. Supports graduated response ('three strikes') scheme.	 Mixed signals on internet filter. Has taken no action to reform use of s313 to block websites.
	 Opposes mandatory data retention. Opposes mass surveillance programmes.	 Supports NBN with Fibre to the Premises (FTTP).	 Supports fair use. Has called for greater transparency on TPP.	 Opposes internet filter. Opposes use of s313 to block websites.
	 Opposed to mandatory data retention.	 No clear stance.	 No clear stance.	 Opposes internet filter. Strong record fighting censorship.
	 Opposes mandatory data retention. Opposes mass surveillance programmes.	 Supports NBN with Fibre to the Premises (FTTP).	 Supports fair use. Has called for greater transparency on TPP.	 Opposes internet filter. Opposes use of s313 to block websites.
	 Opposes the 'surveillance state'. Supports stronger protections for whistleblowers.	 No clear stance.	 No clear stance.	 Supports free flow of information and independent media.
	 Supports a bill of rights.	 No clear stance.	 Opposes limits on ability to copy purchased items, favours lowering copyright term.	 Opposes internet filter.
	 No clear stance.	 No clear stance.	 No clear stance.	 Opposes internet filter.