In 2013 the Australian Law Reform Commission (ALRC) recommended that Australia adopt a number of reforms to modernise the Copyright Act, particularly a broadening of the currently limited fair dealing exceptions to a much broader, flexible fair use exception, in line with US copyright law.

In December 2015, the Government released draft legislation which included reforms which address a number of key issues (such as extending the Safe Harbour scheme and facilitating the implementation of the Marrakesh Treaty) but which fall well short of the introduction of a broad, flexible fair use exception.

In April 2016 the Productivity Commission issued a draft report which supported the ALRC's recommendation for Australia to adopt a broad, flexible fair use exception.
